

...IN THE SOCIAL REALM...

"Old Sweethearts Are Sweetest."

Old sweethearts are the sweetest,
As all true lovers know.
Old comforts are completest
In sun or shade or snow.
Say, sweethearts, is it so?
We two go on together.
Old sweethearts are the sweetest,
As all true lovers know.

Old sweethearts are the sweetest,
As all true lovers know.
Young lover, as thou gonest
Thy sweetheart tell her so.
Ah, tell her, tell her so!
Time ties a golden tether
As we go on together.
Old sweethearts are the sweetest,
As all true lovers know.

The Midsummer Harvest.

The midsummer harvest of pleasure is being gathered by Richmond society harvesters in many fields. For Richmond people have sought their diversions in widely separated sections, not a few being in the Adirondacks, on the English coast, and in foreign countries until the autumn.

In Virginia the Horse Shows are dividing attention with the seashore and the mountain resort. At Manassas last week, Mrs. Allen Potts, Miss Dorothy Henry, of Millwood, and Mrs. Courtland Smith, of Alexandria, electrified a large number of spectators by their superb riding.

At the Orange Horse Show this week, where Mr. and Mrs. Potts, Miss Louise Selden, Mr. Thomas Atkinson, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Courtland Smith, Mrs. Wellford C. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Blair Johnson, Mr. Julian Morris and Mrs. A. Randolph Howard, of Fredericksburg, will be among the riders and exhibitors, many Richmond people will be among those having the liveliest interest in the ring performances.

Midsummer weddings in late July will not be lacking to supply the things of romance that the season's full flavor demands. Two among others scheduled for this week will be that of Miss Elizabeth Snyder, daughter of Mrs. Thomas W. Snyder, to Dr. Arthur Jordan, in the bride's home, on Wednesday evening, July 27, at 9 o'clock; and that of Miss Lorena Knight Atlee, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob S. Atlee, to Mr. Karl K. Cornwall, in his celebrated July 27, at 8 P. M., in "Wakefield," the home of the bride's parents.

Goode-Finch.

Interest centers in the mid-week nuptials of Mrs. Allen Finch, of Boydton, Va., to Mr. Edward Chambers Goode, to take place quietly at 10 o'clock A. M. on Wednesday next in the suburban home of the bride, "Oak Lawn," near Richmond.

The ceremony will be witnessed only by Dr. Deewy Hunter Marrow, the brother of the bride; his family, members of the groom's family and a few intimate friends. Mr. and Mrs. Goode will leave immediately after their wedding for Greenbrier White Sulphur Springs, where they will spend the month of August.

Mrs. Finch is the daughter of the late Dr. W. B. Marrow, of Union level, Mecklenburg county. She has lived often at length in Richmond, where she has many warmly attached friends. Mr. Goode is the son of Colonel Thomas P. Goode, and is now completing his studies for the county of Mecklenburg.

Miss Mercer at Virginia Beach.
Miss Jean Mercer, who has returned from St. Louis for the midsummer months, is now with her parents, Mayor and Mrs. John L. Mercer, of Williamsburg, at Miss Blinn's cottage, Virginia Beach.

While in St. Louis, Miss Mercer, who spent last winter in Richmond, was the recipient of much flattering attention. She was a special guest of the reception given by Prince Lee Lun, heir to the throne of China.

To Tour Sapphire Country.
Mrs. Katherine S. Jones, of Charlottesville, who has been the guest of Mr. William Russell Jones, of Barton Heights, Va., is now on a trip through the Sapphire Coast of North Carolina. She will visit in Greensboro, Asheville and other points; also in Knoxville, Louisville and Alton, Ill.

Miss Jones is first vice-regent of the Monticello chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution and represents the Albemarle Chapter of the Virginia branch of that society in St. Louis.

For the month of August Mrs. Jones will be hostess of the Virginia State building and vice-regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution apartments in the building. She will leave St. Louis August 1st, and her presence at the Virginia building will naturally be most interesting to Virginians generally and to Albemarle people in particular.

Saturday Afternoon Club.
The Saturday Afternoon Club, which meets in the home of its president, Mrs. B. B. Munford, during club season, made an introductory study last winter and spring of Dante's Divina Commedia. It will continue the study of the great epic for another year, with the following programme and books of reference:

RACE DONE?

Not a Bit of it.
A man who had been in a race was run made a food find that brought him back to perfect health.
"One year ago I was unable to perform any labor; in fact, I was told by my physicians that they could do nothing further for me. I was fast sinking away, for an attack of grip had left my stomach so weak it could not digest any food sufficient to keep me alive.
"There I was just wasting away, growing thinner every day and weaker, really being starved out simply because I could not get any nourishment from food.
"Then my sister got after me to try Grape Nuts food, which had done much good for her, and she finally persuaded me, and, although no other food had done me the least bit of good, my stomach had the Grape Nuts for the first time, and this food supplied the nourishment I had needed. In three months I was so strong I moved from Albany to San Francisco, and now on my third year of Grape Nuts and cream every day I am strong and vigorous, and do fifteen hours' work.
"I believe the sickest person in the world could do as I do, eat three meals of nothing but Grape Nuts and cream and soon be on their feet, again in the flush of best health like me.
"Not only am I in perfect physical health, again, but my brain is stronger and clearer than it ever was on the old diet. I hope you will write to the names I send you about Grape Nuts, for I want to see my friends well and strong.
"Just think that a year ago I was dying, but to-day, although I am over 55 years of age, most people take me to be less than 40, and I feel just as young as I look."

There's a reason.

Club Reference Books.

The list of reference books to be used by the club includes Loggell's "Translation With Notes," Karl Federn's "Dante and His Time," M. F. Rossetti's "Shadow of Dante," T. Harris's "Spiritual Significance of the Divine Comedy," and the "Dante Society," "The Study of Dante," John Ruskin's "Comments on the Divine Comedy," Charles A. Dinsmore's "Teachings of Dante," Vernon Lee's "Euphorion," Edward Moore's "Studies in Dante," Leigh Hunt's "Italian Poets," Mr. Oliphant's "Makers of Florence," Rosampend Coule's "Garden of Dante," Oscar Kuhn's "Treatment of Nature in the Divine Comedy," and Thomas Carlyle's "Hera and Hero Worship."

Charming House Party.

A very delightful house party is now in progress at "Rosemary Cottage," the beautiful country residence of Mr. B. P. Valentine. The guests arrived Tuesday, the 19th, and a merrier party has seldom been seen in Albemarle county. Among those invited are: Misses Birdie Williams, of Keswick; Evelyn Bell, of Beale; Kate Smith, of Williamsburg; Clara Garnett, of Culpeper; Misses Lightfoot, of Culpeper; Willie Glass, of Waynesboro; E. Henning Smith, of Richmond; Miller Gray, of New York; E. S. Slate, of South Boston; T. H. Hobbs, of Richmond; and E. Barbour, of Petersburg. The Misses Valentine and Mr. Robert Valentine are proving themselves highly accomplished in the art of entertaining, and there will be many sad hearts when good-byes must be said, and the merry company disperse to their respective homes.

Social Gathering.

Miss Mary Bongers gave a delightful social evening at her home, 404 North Fourth Street, in honor of her cousin, Misses Jennies Long, Helen Mosen and Irene Freeman, last Friday evening. Music, singing and games were followed by delicious refreshments. Among those present were: Misses Edna and Julia Bowman, Hazel Jude, Flora and Iola Crump, Maggie Shoemaker, Carrie Isner, Annie and Kate Dunkford, Grace Bradley, Edna and Ruth Umlauf, May Howe, Addie Munde, Maude McIntock, Pearl Blankenship, Inez Teller, Estelle Sheppard, Dashiell Ridd, Hattie Leach, Nannie Graves and Miss Yowall; Messrs. STRAPPED TO COFFIN.

Bachelor Club Punishes Recalcitrant Member on Wedding Eve.

(Special To The Times-Dispatch.)

CHICAGO, July 23.—Strapped to the lid of a coffin and escorted with all the pomp of an ancient Egyptian funeral procession, Frank Ellis was carried to the presidential reception given him by his fellow members of the Thirteen Club, of Woodlawn.

The club is an organization of bachelors, who agreed not to marry, and Mr. Ellis was the first to break the agreement. Monday evening he announced that on Friday he would marry Miss Ella L. Holstrom.

Yesterday Carey Reese, president of the club, sent for Mr. Ellis, and when the young man got off the train at Auburn Park he was met by twelve men, all dressed in white gowns and caps.

Ellis was overpowered and strapped to the coffin lid. He was placed in a wagon, draped in white, and pulled by two white horses. As the hearse went on, beating muffled drums.

CAPE HENRY; SHAM FIGHT

Gay Scenes During the Week, Despite an Unusual Temperature.

TROLLEY AND CARD PARTIES

Young People From Different Sections Taking Part in All the Fun.

(Special To The Times-Dispatch.)

CAPE HENRY, Va., July 23.—About the only thing one could look forward to with any degree of real anticipation during the early part of this week was a ride on the electric trolleys. For two days there was an entire absence of moving air, which made the ocean and bay appear like a sheet of highly polished glass, and a consequent sweltering high temperature, a condition to which the Cape dwellers are very much unused. That it did not come to stay permanently was the only consolation one could muster to help accept the inevitable with a philosophical frame of mind and wear an amiable smile through it all. The irrepressible dancer, however, flung defiance to the elements and came to the Casino with all the animation of a young youth impies. Though the strains of Maxin's orchestra did float forth in trembling, suggestive, watery-like notes from a corps of sweltering musicians those devotees of the Terpsichorean art were to all appearances perfectly oblivious to the lasting effects of Old Sol that it was really cooling in itself to watch them.

THE SHAM BATTLE.

The sham battle which occurred yesterday proved to be one of the most attractive events yet given at the Cape. The position on top of the sand mountain was ably defended by the artillery of the Norfolk Blues, supported by the North Carolina Infantry, until the old Seventy-first, with a wild rush and cry swept up and onward to the climax of the exciting spectacle. It was an inspiring sight beyond a doubt, and enjoyed to that extent that when the band struck up "Dixie" at the conclusion, such a wild hurra from scores of throats of visiting grizzled veterans that seemed to shake the sands beneath their feet and transformed them into boys again. The reception and dance that followed in the evening at the Casino gave a very pretty ending to the day.

Quite an enjoyable trolley ride was given to the Casino last Saturday night, dancing was the main feature of the occasion. The young folks came by special car from Virginia Beach, and were accompanied by Miss Lavinia Pannell and Mr. James Johnston, Messrs. Farquhar and Elizabeth Van Zimmern of Baltimore; Messrs. Bessie Merritt, Emily and Louie Johnston, Virginia Pollard, Bessie Dey, Grace Stanworth, and Messrs. John, Beverly Paine, Monroe Kelly, John A. McIntosh Bayler, Hal Page, Nash Reid, of Richmond, were members of the party.

IMPROMPTU CARD PARTY.

An impromptu card party given at the Laysan Cottage on Saturday last, was most enjoyable. The guests were Misses Madeline C. S. Lively and Paul Redd, Jr., and Miss Lottie Lively as hostesses proved to be such an enjoyable affair that a general interest has been aroused in this social pastime among the cottage residents. Several more card parties in formal in nature to conform to the hot weather, are being planned for the near future in addition to the snubbe to be given at the Casino sometime next month. Duplicate whist was the game used at Mrs. Lively's and played in a delightful manner by the participants. The players included Miss Hoffman and Miss Rorbeck, of Washington; Miss Thompson, of Norfolk; Mrs. Clarence Lively, Mrs. Paul Redd, Jr., and Miss Lottie Lively, and Mr. Runbough, of Washington; Mr. Clarence S. Lively and Dr. Paul Redd, Jr.

Most of the points in Virginia are represented at the Cape Henry Hotel by Mr. H. P. Cook, Mr. W. R. Scott, Mr.

Worth the Money.

Probably the highest sum ever paid for a sermon was that paid to a lucky German preacher, who receives $4,000 for his effort. In 1820 a wealthy French baron named Favart, who lived in England, died, and bequeathed his money to the Protestant Church there, on condition that it should be invested and the interest given annually to some clergyman, chosen haphazard from those holding the poor old man's money. The baron had died, and bequeathed his money to the Protestant Church there, on condition that it should be invested and the interest given annually to some clergyman, chosen haphazard from those holding the poor old man's money.

Bright's Disease and Diabetes News.

Sacramento, Cal., March 21, 1904.

To relatives of those having Bright's Disease or Diabetes:

Knowing what I do I consider that it would be almost criminal to conceal the knowledge I have as to the curability of Bright's Disease and Diabetes when there are so many homes constantly afflicted by the presence of these hitherto fatal diseases.
